ESPERIENZA INTERNAZIONALE

- 2006-2013: Faculty of an Executive Training Program for top-level staff of the State Bank of Vietnam, sponsored by Deutsche Gesellschaft für Technische Zusammenarbeit (GTZ) GmbH.
- 1997-2006: Member of the Scientific Board of Nemetria of Foligno (Italy), an educational not-for-profit organization. Developed and directed Master of Finance programs --consisting of 800 contact hours of graduate-level banking and finance—and much of its executive education activities.
- 2002-2008: Faculty of the Master of Finance at the University of Brescia, Italy.
- 2001: Director of the IU Kelley School of Business Program at the University of Maastricht, the Netherlands, January-April.
- 1999: President of UniversEd, LLC, a company specializing in executive educational programs worldwide.
- 1998: Executive education for financial analysts preparing for the CFA (Certified Financial Analyst) exam, Catholic University of Milano (Italy).
- 1997: Executive education for financial analysts preparing for the CFA (Certified Financial Analyst) exam, Italian Stock Exchange in Milano (Italy) Developed and directed two educational programs, one for NEMETRIA in Foligno (Italy) and the other for the Italian Stock Exchange in Milano (Italy). The Foligno program consists of 800 contact hours of graduate-level banking and finance. The course starts in January and ends in August and aims at placing Italian university graduates in top financial institution. The Milan program aims at preparing participants for the Certified Financial Analyst exam.
- 1996: Adviser to Government of Vietnam on banking system reform. Lectures and advising on specific topics were given to the State Bank of Vietnam, Vietnamese Banking Association, and Advisory Group to the Prime Minister. My work was funded by the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Technische Zusammenarbeit (GTZ) GmbH.
- 1994: Project Director, Ryazan Partnership for Management Training, a series of intensive courses for Russian banking executives in Ryazan, Russia. The goals were to offer a basic and broad understanding of the economic functions of a competitive banker and the fundamental tools of bank management, and to find practical solutions for improving the banking and financial system in the Ryazan region.
- 1993: Advisor to Italy's Minister of Industry on issues of privatizations; member of the "Committee on Prices and Markets" (Commissione per l'osservazione dei prezzi e dei mercati); advisor to Fondo Interbancario di Tutela dei Depositi, Rome (Interbank Fund for Deposit insurance) on matters of deposit insurance.
- 1991-92: International Baltic Economic Commission. Headed the Monetary and Fiscal Policy Committee and developed the Baltic Banking Program for bankers and government officials from Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania in cooperation with the Hudson Institute. Continued delivery of the program was terminated when each of the three Baltic countries decided to establish its own currency and two-tier banking system.
- 1986: Advisor to the Italian Ministry of the Treasury. I prepared the material and argued the case of Italy's credit rating with Standard and Poors.
- 1981-82: President's Council of Economic Advisers. One of my duties was to represent CEA at the IMF, World Bank and OECD. I attended regularly WP-2 and WP-3 meetings in Paris.
- 1980: Advisor to the Italian Minister of the Budget on issues of macroeconomic policy and infrastructure project financing.
- 1976-79: Commission of the European Communities, Brussels. I was economic adviser in DG-II, the Director General for Economic and Financial Affairs. My duties included plan preparation for monetary integration in the Community, the construction of the European Monetary System, and ad-hoc assignments such as the loan agreement between the Community and Italy.

various years: advisor and consultant to Banca Nazionale dell' Agricoltura, Rome; Istituto Bancario S. Paolo, Turin; Fondigest, Milan; Confindustria, Rome; Banque Bruxelles-Lambert, Brussels; Booz-Allen and Hamilton, New York; Center for Economics and Policy Studies, Turin; Argus Research Corporation, Rome; Bank of Italy, Rome.
